Claims Veto Plan Vital

JERUSALEM, (AP)—Three bombs, dented by Tommy-gun wielding youths whom police described as Jews, exploded in Jerusalem's central railway station Wednesday. The station had been evacuated before the blasts.

A road mine which police said was set by the Jewish underground exploded under a military convoy here earlier Wednesday wrecking two army trucks, killing two soldiers and injuring 10.

Troops and police launched a search and soon announced discovery of a "fairly large" cache of illegal weapons in the Jewish settlement of Givat Shaul, just outside the city. A curfew had been clamped on the settlement Oct. 3, after a similar explosion on a nearby road.

Jerusalem's curfew orders were amended to extend from 8:00 p.m. until 7:00 a.m., rather than from 6:30 p.m. to 5:00 a.m. The curfew was extended to include the Nahalat Shimon quarter, a Jewish area where the attack occurred.

Another outbreak of violence was reported from the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, where four armed men robbed two Polish refugee committee cashiers of $2,000 in a dining street holdup.

Australia Takes Exception To Molotov's Veto Charge

Last of Prisoners Leave by Year-end
OTTAWA, (CP)—The last of the 26,000 German prisoners once held in Canada is expected to leave the country by the end of the year.

In December—despite hundreds of requests for permission to remain in the dominion—about 4,000, mostly merchant seamen, still are in Canada.

Lt.-Col. R. Davidson, director of the prisoners of war projects of the labor department, said more than 1,000 employers have asked that certain prisoners remain but government orders that all are to be sent home.

NEW YORK, (AP)—Soviet Russia, for the second time in history, called Tuesday for universal disarmament, including the banning of the atomic bomb, but pressed unsuccessfully for immediate debate of its proposal.

Foreign Minister Molotov first laid down a far-reaching policy for disarmament. He said the government in an hour-and-eight-minute address to the United Nations assembly. Then he capped it with a surprise demand that the United Nations get behind his proposal for universal disarmament without delay.

Mr. Molotov had bluntly told the assembly that its war-born structure would collapse if the veto system is eliminated, and had lashed at Winston Churchill and Bernard Baruch personally.

He called also for an accounting of troops of the United Nations, particularly United States and British soldiers, stationed in foreign, non-enemy countries, and said Russia was willing to report similarly on her own troops.

His proposal that the United Nations general assembly act to maintain a monopoly on atomic energy, Dr. Baruch said, was not a proposal to keep atomic energy out of the hands of the security council, but to keep it out of the hands of the security council, but to keep it out of the hands of the security council.

He charged that those numerous U. N. members who were opposing the security council's proposal to "shake the foundations" of the United Nations were actually "shaking the foundations" of the United Nations.

Mr. Molotov accused Winston Churchill as a "prophet" of "aggression" and "imperialism," and said that Russia was willing to report similarly on her own troops.

communist, for allegedly holding a "neutral philosophy" leading toward a "new aggression."

"There was widespread reaction to the Russian speech but all agreed that it was powerful and aggressive," said St. Laurent.

"A very impressive speech dealing with matters with which many countries are concerned."

"It may be that more than is warranted in his resolution will be required to enable us safely to reduce our armaments. It is a task for all nations to share," he said.

L. D. Wigmore, Canadian ambassador to Moscow and an intimate of Molotov from Canada, said "it was the clearest speech Molotov ever made—very and very aggressive."

Field Marshal Smuts, leader of the South African delegation, said he was "not surprised" on the disarmament proposal because "Canada's St. Laurent, with his long experience, probably more effective than Mr. Molotov's resolution for disarming with safety."

British diplomats said it was disappointing "just when we were about to enter a new phase of co-operation."

Committee Would Face Task of Organization

NEW YORK, (AP)—If foreign ministers Molotov's proposal for universal disarmament should be accepted by the world, the task of drafting a complete plan would fall on the United Nations military staff committee which, collectively, is charged with settling the disarmament of armaments and possible disarmament of the world.

The committee, which is composed of the chiefs of staff of the United States, Britain, France and China, the charter provides that "the committee shall advise the council on questions relating to the regulation of armaments and possible disarmament."

During the last eight months of sessions the committee has worked without notable results on the preliminary plan for the global force.

While Foreign Minister Molotov did not discuss this point scientifically in his address to the assembly, persons close to the committee consider that the proposal for universal disarmament would have air, land and sea contingents to maintain peace and security.

With all countries disarmed, it was apparent that three forces would not need to be large.

Some military men took the view that the disarmament plan would draw the immediate support of the small powers who find that the maintenance of military forces is a serious drain on the treasury. With their big neighbors stripped of arms, these small countries could feel secure without the tremendous outlay for armaments.

Japanese defendants on trial before a military commission in the Yokohama district court are pictured in prisoner's box as they listened to the charges against them. Left to right they are Masao Yoshida, a former first lieutenant in the Japanese army; Takeo Takashi, former medical officer at the prison camp at Nagasaki; and Shiro Yoshida, medical officer at the same camp, and Katsuzo Saito, civilian guard. They are charged with mistreatment of Allied prisoners of war. Yoshida is charged with the death of more than 60 Canadian prisoners of war while commander of the "Yokohama" camp. Saito is charged with the death of one of the most hard-boiled of all Jap camp commanders.

Urging Voluntary Food Price Curb

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Food merchants of Canada may be asked to accept a "voluntary control" program when the prices begin ceilinging.

The voluntary "inflation restraint" program, calling for a system of "voluntary control," is sponsored by A. A. Shelly of Saskatoon, and will be presented for ratification to the Retail Merchants' association in convention here.

"The majority of food price ceilings will be withdrawn within a few months," he said.

Mr. Shelly, former director of the Saskatchewan price control board, was great opportunity for service clubs.

Missing 2 Years, Is Called Deserter

FRANKFURT, Germany, (AP)—Pte. George P. Jackson, 26, of Munich, who was missing for two years and then turned up as an apparent amnesia victim, now faces a court martial on a desertion charge, United States 3rd Army headquarters announced Tuesday.

Jackson had been officially declared "dead" a year after his absence.

The headquarters announcement said that on Oct. 24 a board of medical officers concluded an examination and declared Jackson was not now and never was a victim of amnesia.

His findings indicated that while at the time of desertion he might have been suffering from an anxiety neurosis, he completely regained all his mental faculties after leaving the battle area.

Jackson, who disappeared from his division in September, 1944, turned up in Saarbrücken in July, 1946.

Britain to Investigate Press For 'Monopolistic Tendencies'

By Frank Swanson

LONDON.—The press of Britain has accepted with unqualified enthusiasm the decision to appoint a royal commission to investigate "monopolistic tendencies" in its growth and development.

The newspapers have long been reconciled to the prospect of such an investigation and parliament's decision to go ahead with the scheme surprised no one. What did surprise both newspapers and public alike was the statement by Herbert Morrison, lead president of the council that a BBC investigation would follow the press inquiry.

Something like 120 of the government's voting strength was absent, which in the minds of many people indicates lively interest by many government supporters.

Under Fire for Year

Appointment of the commission is regarded as a victory for back-bench Labour who have been in full cry after newspaper proprietors since the election of the Labour government last year.

The vote was 270 for an inquiry into the press and 197 against.

Appointment of members of the commission may be announced within a week. There probably will be about six members in addition to a chairman.

Stittings will be in public and the body will have power to subpoena witnesses. It is thought the terms of reference will follow closely the words of the motion carried by the commons Tuesday night.

Pro Finance, Control

The motion was in these words: "That having regard to increasing public concern at the growth of monopolistic tendencies in control of the press, and with the object of furthering free expression of opinion through the press and the greatest practicable accuracy of the presentation of news, this house considers:—

"That a royal commission should be appointed to inquire into financial control, management and ownership of the press."

Zionist Council Asks Jewish State

JERUSALEM, (Reuters)—The Zionist Council, in a resolution adopted by an overwhelming majority Tuesday declared that "the only solution to the twin problems of the Jewish people and of Palestine lies in the establishment of a Jewish state."

The resolution, adopted after a long session, also called on the Jewish community in Palestine to "boycott terrorist groups and deny them all encouragement, support and assistance."

Three British soldiers were killed and 15 wounded early Wednesday when a military column was ambushed by a military column, Palestine police announced Wednesday.

Under the voluntary plan merchants would continue the margin of profit held by retail dealers during the war. It calls for pooling of prices by hundreds of women's organizations from coast-to-coast.

Women's organizations would be informed of pricebreakers in their community. A possible boycott might result and wholesalers would be asked to halt supplies. Information Price bureaus, operated in connection with Retail Merchants' association offices in each province, would keep the public informed of price changes.

"If our system is as successful as we think it will be, the only reason for food price increases will be because manufacturers or purveyors have had to advance prices themselves," said Mr. Shelly. Higher prices might be necessary due to increased production or manufacturing costs. The present price board "item index" on foods, fixing the retailers' margin of profit, will be used if the program is adopted by the R.M.A.

Anti-Inflation Talks Planned

OTTAWA, (CP)—Donald Gordon, plain-spoken price board chief, has decided to step back into the public relations picture and fire the domestic series of paragraphs to combat what the board considers the worst inflation threat since early in the war.

Mr. Gordon, 31, of five nation-wide broadcasts which will constitute the most concentrated amount of public "advice" he has undertaken since the campaign for restriction of price distribution in 1941-42. Mr. Gordon will discuss price control generally, foods, clothing and rentals, and the consequences of inflation.

Representations and inquiries to the board show that concern and uncertainty about the future of controls in the dominion are greater even than early in the war when ceilings were first imposed. Officials cite as the reason for this anxiety three main factors, which have developed threatening proportions in recent months.

1. The decontrol program in the United States, where prices on some commodities have soared since controls were removed.

2. Representations by countries groups which have urged removal of controls immediately affecting themselves but at the same time protested against removal of related controls which would affect them adversely in other ways.

3. Concern by the general public over the lifting of basic controls like rent, food and clothing, and consequent misleading rumors and speculation.

Mr. Gordon's talks will embrace not only an explanation of the present difficulties facing the price administration but also are expected to provide a definite picture of the government's future plans for decontrol.

Mr. Gordon in his broadcasts is expected to reassure Canadians that prices will not rise unduly on rent, food and clothing.

CALGARY, (CP)—Major Gen. R. K. Porter, who commanded the Canadian Third division in the Normandy invasion, told the following story in the address to the Calgary military institute Tuesday night.

After stating "I've never seen such a living hell as I saw at Carpiquet," he recalled entering Caen on the Sunday of his capture, with mopping up still going on. He stopped and asked a soldier where a liaison commander was.

"He's a company up ahead," said the soldier. "Boy, are you the general?"

"Yes," said the general. "You can go anywhere you like?"

"Yes."

"One I wish was a general and I'd get the hell out of here," said the man finally.

You've often heard that insulation pays for itself. That's putting it mildly. In the case of the Johns-Manville Company of Montreal, Ontario, they invested two thousand dollars in some Johns-Manville insulation that saved them thirty-seven thousand dollars!

This insulation covers pipe lines which carry hot compressed air five hundred feet between two buildings. After these air lines were insulated from freezing weather, their efficiency increased twenty percent. Now five air compressors do the work of six!

By controlling temperatures from 400 degrees below zero to 2,000 degrees above, J-M insulation saves industry millions of dollars in fuel every year! If you have an insulation problem in your plant, get in touch with John-Manville at the McGill Street, Winnipeg.

Two Gunmen Rob Indian Agent of $1,200 "Treaty Money"

Police look over the scene of the $1,200 robbery which occurred four miles from Hala, Ont. Gunmen dropped the tree trunk across the road and when Indian Agent Devin got out to remove it, they held him up at gunpoint. He was on the way to pay treaty money to Indians.

security council and the military staff committee so ahead with all possible speed in the constructive work of negotiating the special agreements and of organizing the military and economic measures of enforcement.

Mr. St. Laurent said that, in common with many other countries, Canada was bearing heavy financial burdens as a result of the war and was concerned over the mounting costs of participation in international organizations. The assembly must be able to satisfy world public opinion that U.N. financing was being employed in the best interests of the United Nations.

Wants To Save Time
"Wasteful diversion" also resulted from unnecessary prolongation of international meetings. Canada's result had required the setting up of a committee to make recommendations to the assembly at this session on measures to recognize the time of future sessions.

Calling for complete co-operation among the United Nations, the minister concluded: "Let us beware of recommitment of charge and counter-charge. Let us, with goodwill, courage and forbearance, pursue the course which leads to resolution and not be hindered by differences. Let us proceed with the business of this assembly, all of us determined to work together in the interests of peace and understanding among the nations."

St. Laurent Breaks Some New Ground

NEW YORK, (CP)—Canada laid her yesterday afternoon before the United Nations general assembly. Because of self-imposed brevity, and also because the Canadian delegation believes that the important words should be said in the operating committees of U.N., not in plenary session, the speech by Justice Minister St. Laurent did not have the breadth nor command the applause of many of those which had preceded it.

Churchill Later Deletes Remark

LONDON, (CP)—Winston Churchill called Tuesday night for a full report on all military forces that may cause concern to any of the victorious countries of the war suggesting the United Nations as a sounding board.

The British warlike leader first made and then withdrew a challenge of Prime Minister Stalin's statement that there were only 60 Soviet divisions in the Russian-occupied areas of Europe, at against Mr. Churchill's own suggestion that 200 divisions were on duty between the Baltic and Black seas.

In a rapid reply to his wartime colleague, Mr. Churchill at first Premier Stalin's figure of 60 divisions did "not include Romania."

"Nor, of course," it was added, "do they include the heavy Soviet concentrations in the Leningrad and Odessa areas."

But two hours later, he struck the reference from his statement without explanation.

Australian Butter May Save Ration

OTTAWA, (CP)—Importation of Australian or New Zealand butter as a means of levelling off butter supply deficiencies and thus maintaining the present butter ration of a ounce is being considered by the government in the light of the prices paid for it.

Canada permitted imports of Australian and New Zealand butter up to 1932. It is now thought possible the time is opportune for a re-examination of this provision on a modified basis—providing the two countries are able to help Canada. As much as 40,000,000 pounds of butter has been shipped to Canada from "down under" in a single year. Even a few million pounds might be sufficient to permit the government to maintain its present butter ration.

It is believed Canadian producers, able to sell every ounce of butter they can produce, would not frown on imports at this time.

While the prices paid for butter are able to maintain the ration, there is still a possibility a cut may have to be made this winter. Such a cut, however, would be a very small fraction of an ounce per month.

It will be two weeks at least before any decision is reached. Producers have been asked to make heavy moves in the west are making matters and will result in a definite cut in production. Again, although cut storage holds, there is a possibility of a cut in the price of butter.

Also under consideration by the price board is the application of producers for increases in the price of butter, which would result in an increase in retail price. Producers asked that butter be raised from 22 1/2 cents per pound to 24 cents, which is equivalent to a 10 cents per pound retail increase in butter. This would send butter up from 44 to 54 cents.

Should To Mark

Mr. Cooper, after explaining he had been asked to run, concluded: "If I should merit your support at the polling, I shall esteem it a privilege to serve the people of the fourth constituency."

The fourth candidate, Mr. Mercer, polled only 28 votes and was defeated in the first parliamentary session in Bermuda history to his 4200 defeat, because he failed to get at least one-eighth of the total vote.

Said To Mark
Mr. Mercer served notice on the electors that he had been approached to run and had agreed to offer himself as a candidate. He submitted his resignation to the electors and was elected to the office of the fourth constituency.

Matka found he was breaking the law when he applied for installation of electricity in his $2,500 town house. He owns the lot on which it stands.

Britain to Admit More Products

OTTAWA, (CP)—The trade department made public Tuesday a list of 36 additional products now eligible for export to the United Kingdom under Britain's latest shipment policy inaugurated earlier this year and expanded last week.

Tuesday's list includes products ranging from canned goods and underclothing to electrical equipment and appliances.

The list brings to 166 the number of products now eligible for shipment to Britain, says Canadian exporters with a pre-war market in the United Kingdom for 100 of the common items will be able to obtain British import licenses for these shipments.

Distillery Records Checked in Probe

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Police Tuesday started check of documentary records in the offices of United Distillers Limited, in connection with the two-month investigation into the alleged export of liquor to the United States.

Investigations, who refused to be quoted, indicated the amount of liquor involved was estimated at 10,000 to 15,000 cases, with a value ranging from $1,500,000 to $1,800,000. Details were refused until the investigation has been completed.

Two men have been arrested, charged with perjury in the printing of export price lists submitted to the Office of Price Administration in connection with the investigation.

The basis of the charge, police said, was that the price lists, fixed by the O.P.A., lists were used in fact to be used in the lists in effect before the imposition of ceilings in April, 1943.

It was reported here the importers of Vancouver-made liquor imported in the case has indicated in New York, but authorities could not disclose the name of the firm.

The men arrested—Robert Joseph Brocken, former owner of an east end print shop, and Oswald Thomas, a printer—will appear in court Friday for preliminary hearing.

Arthur Perlman and H. L. Prust, special agents with the O.P.A., have been working on the case for two months and now are in Vancouver.

Sees Union 'Bribe' To Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., (CP)—A heated argument over the possibility of joining the Canadian confederation resulted in charges at resumption of Newfoundland's national convention dealing on the future form of the old colony's government that bail was offered in the form of a bribe and bribe to Ottawa.

It was the first time this subject has been raised in the convention. Newfoundland turned down an offer of union with Canada at the time of the war.

The debate was launched when Joseph Smallwood of Woodville, representing Bonaville and only a question of confederation, introduced a resolution which would have opened the way for negotiations on possible union with Canada.

Mr. Smallwood of St. John's, opposing the resolution, declared: "Some men will not barter their honor for a nice trip to Ottawa, but what was the bait offered me?" He added if the convention found a resolution which would have opened the way for negotiations there would be no need to seek aid from anyone.

which at least $750,000 of construction would be done annually for 20 years. He added that progress had been made in the repair of roads and cleaning up the city during 1948 that more work could be accomplished for many years previously.

He said that greater attention had been given to recreational facilities this year. There were five more supervisors appointed and new playgrounds equipped.

He referred to the "financial" of the city's debt which was completed this year. The debt now stands at $12,500,000 of which $1,800,000 is local improvement, or utility debt. The debt was reduced by $5,150,000 in 1948.

He said he had carefully carried out his promise made at the election to deal with all parts of the city's population without discrimination. "I have endeavored to give the worker and business a square deal," said Mr. Ainslie.

Thomas J. Cairns, (Independent) candidate for mayor, advocated reduction of taxes, changes in the operation of the Edmonton Streetcar System and that the municipal airport be made a private not civic airport, and therefore taxable. He said that taxes were too high, and that the city should get the value per dollar of their tax money as home-owners and business interest received by business owners in downtown Edmonton.

Improvements made in the streets are constantly being made from downtown businesses, while improvements to residential areas were left undone. Streets that were "good for 20 years down Jasper Avenue" were constantly being torn up and done over again, while needed repairs in residential streets were left undone.

He advocated a two-man street car, with five-cent fares, and abolition of street car tickets.

He claimed that the town planning commission had "bottlenecked" building in the city, that nothing concrete had been done in the matter of housing shortage.

Alderman A. Bissett, KC, (Citizens Committee), candidate for mayor, compared the present-day situation of the city with that of 19 years ago. The city debt had been reduced from 22 millions to 16 millions, with a saving of a considerable amount of interest charges.

He said tribute to the permanent staff of the City of Edmonton, the heads of the departments and commissioners whose "efficient and meritorious service has made possible the steady improvement of the city's standing."

He drew attention to the recently published commission's report which surveyed the standing of the city today. Edmontonians had "reason to be very proud" of their city today, he said.

Sidney S. Bowcott (Citizens Committee) alderman, said that he had been a resident of Edmonton for 30 years, and 20 years a member of the Trades and Labor Council. He served nine years on the public school board, and six years on city council. He recalled that he had advocated the eight-hour day for city firemen and had won the resolution in council. He brought about this betterment in the working conditions for members of the brigade. He commented on the deplorable condition of housing in the city and said that of the 4,000 heads of families seeking emergency accommodation only 1,200 of them could be accommodated.

William W. R. Boyes (CDA) school board, stressed the need for additional recreational facilities for schools, and a curriculum in which more attention was given to arithmetic and spelling.

To make the recreational aspect of school training as effective as possible to growing boys and girls, additional space and instruction was necessary. He advocated that schools be made available for "after-school" cultural and community activities.

Carl W. Clement, (Citizens' Committee) school board, promised to use his best efforts for the advancement of education. He elected to the school board. He said there was no doubt that the school board had advanced. It was just a choice between which side will be the better served that advanced. He referred to the eight-year extension of the school year, which was also to "many small improvements" that had been made through out the city schools in the past year.

Norman P. Finmore (CDA) alderman, outlined the aims of the City Democratic Alliance, saying that it was to be a "permanent political organization," that it would take an active interest in its members after the election to see that they stayed "on the job" to do what they set out before their election to public office in the city.

He invited the interest and membership in the CDA of his listeners, and in the discussion of city affairs.

He said he was interested in the CDA the more democratic way of management for civic affairs. He said he had always taken an active part in civic matters, and was prepared to work with anyone to elect to office persons who were inimical to the interests. He said the influence of the manufacturers' association can be eliminated throughout the Citizens' Committee set up. He said that as vice-president of the Edmonton Trades and Labor Council he had always carried on the fight for the workers against the manufacturers.

He said that the most important matters to be dealt with were, better housing, accommodation, and lower hospital charges, and the clearance of the city's health standards can be increased.

Percy J. Gwynne, (CDA) alderman, charged that the transportation system in Edmonton was "out of control." He said that such a widespread city, he suggested the use of 50 per cent of the present buses to establish a trunk system which would connect downtown with the outlying districts as the more centrally located.

He said that the purchase of the new, and the establishment of non-stop cross-city runs to outlying districts, and the best transportation inadequacies suffered by residents in areas outlying districts, and the marking of "safety zones" where now planned. With the normal traffic carried by the streets, cars that would be in use until reconstruction to buses, and buses that served to the curb, would greatly increase the traffic hazards, he said.

William Hazard, (CDA) alderman, said that he was pledged to see that the city had a fair share for the advancement made by the city during his period in office. He recalled that in 1914 the city had a mill rate of 64 mills, and that it was now 49 1/2 mills. Since 1937, he added, there had been a recurrent surplus on operation of the city's affairs. Taxation had been established records during this period, and this year the collections were $200,000 above the record achieved in 1945.

WE ARE ALL AGREED that the housing situation is a matter of paramount importance, and relief must be given to the city through repeated pressure on those responsible. He said that a present-day solution was to make it possible for the municipalities to provide financial subsidies for the construction of houses at low sale prices and low rentals.

He said that the city council used the powers vested in it to stop all non-essential building.

Mrs. Julia Kinski (Independent) alderman, said that housing conditions for juvenile delinquents in Edmonton were in a "trifling condition." She said that the housing shortage in Edmonton, and the lack of proper space which to bring up children, were problems that should be solved without delay. She urged a genuine effort to ease the conditions of bad housing and poor living conditions.

James C. Macdonald, (Citizens' Committee) school board, appealed for support to enable him to carry through with the eight-year expansion program planned by the school board. He said that six large schools had been renovated, additional rooms had been added to other schools, and new schools were being built in Bellin, and Bonanza, and a four-room addition was made to the Rutherford school. Work on the new composite high school had started, and a progressive program of supplying better lighting in all schools undertaken this year. The school board's debt had been refunded and a saving of $80,000 annually had been effected through lower interest rates.

Frederick J. Mitchell, (Citizens' Committee) alderman, said that during the past year a great deal of work, delayed during the war, was started, and a lot of this work will not be finished until late next year. The early ordering of equipment has made it possible for waterworks and power plant extensions to get under way. Despite material shortages a good start has been made in the catch-up on needed public works in the city.

John Moon, (CDA), school board, urged an "equal educational opportunity" for all Edmonton children, irrespective of class position or religion. He said that the school board had been successful in getting competent school trustees, additional teaching and recreational facilities for school pupils; that because the schools were part of the community they should be used for other community activities, and their highest qualifications of teaching and maintenance, and the best teaching conditions possible.

L. Morrison, (CDA), school board, appealed for support of his organization's candidates so that they could help Mrs. E.S. Haynes in her uphill fight for expansion of school facilities throughout the city. He said that Mrs. Haynes had been able to break down the 18-year-old policy of the board which was to keep down expenses. He said that the eight-year expansion plan can be scrapped by the next school board election, and appealed for the election of the CDA representatives to ensure continuation of the plan.

James H. Ogilvie (Citizens' Committee) alderman, said he had been 12 years on city council and would claim a fair share for the advancement made by the city during his period in office. He recalled that in 1914 the city had a mill rate of 64 mills, and that it was now 49 1/2 mills. Since 1937, he added, there had been a recurrent surplus on operation of the city's affairs. Taxation had been established records during this period, and this year the collections were $200,000 above the record achieved in 1945.

WE ARE ALL AGREED that the housing situation is a matter of paramount importance, and relief must be given to the city through repeated pressure on those responsible. He said that a present-day solution was to make it possible for the municipalities to provide financial subsidies for the construction of houses at low sale prices and low rentals.

He said that the city council used the powers vested in it to stop all non-essential building.

Mrs. Julia Kinski (Independent) alderman, said that housing conditions for juvenile delinquents in Edmonton were in a "trifling condition." She said that the housing shortage in Edmonton, and the lack of proper space which to bring up children, were problems that should be solved without delay. She urged a genuine effort to ease the conditions of bad housing and poor living conditions.

Women Students to Date the Men U of A Coeds Eagerly Await Waw Waw Week-End Events

Waw Waw week-end, scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 1-2 on the university campus, draws coeds as women students eagerly await the coming of the Waw Waw week-end. The events are greater and more enjoyable than ever before, it has been announced by Director Maurice Roe.

FRIDAY Night Waw Waw will be a mammoth carnival in the variety rink, complete with midway and grandstand attractions. The grandstand will feature the new-style variety show, and features acts, novelty numbers and other acts produced by various campus clubs. Friday night's show will be the CDA's "Waw Waw" show, which has been announced by Secretary Eileen Foote, of the Students' Union, that class election results will be announced during the grandstand show.

On Saturday afternoon there will be a girls' rugby game at the variety grid when two Amazon teams will battle it out for female gridiron supremacy. The mood of the game can be deduced from the fact that the goalposts used will be removable and the yardsticks will be of elastic.

MAIN FEATURE OF THE WEEK-END will be the informal dance on the hill Saturday evening commencing at 8:00 o'clock when all Sadies will invite their favorite L.I. Abner. A special program designed to correspond with the Dugout dance has been arranged, with Collis Murray acting as master of ceremonies.

One square foot of soil may contain as many as 40,000 weed seeds.

Varsity Students To Vote on Fund

In preparation for the Memorial Day (Alberta) to be conducted this year on the university campus, ballots will be cast next Wednesday on the method by which the students desire to contribute. The two choices are a blanket extension of student laboratory caution money to be turned over to the scholarship fund at the end of the year, or a personal canvas during a drive to be held next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Nov. 7, 8 and 9. Ballot results will be announced next Wednesday night.

Varsity students are eagerly awaiting the success of the province-wide drive to be conducted later in the year which will depend on a great deal on campus results.

So warmly welcomed is the Memorial Fund that $200 has already been donated, before official opening of the drive by alumni and campus clubs.

Before The Magistrate

Kenneth Hume who was arrested last Sunday morning on a charge of dangerous driving after an accident at the south entrance to the 100 street subway appeared before Magistrate A. L. Miller, at 10 o'clock this morning. He pleaded guilty to the "charge" and was fined $20 and costs or 10 weeks imprisonment. The magistrate stated that he would like to "let off" even more on the dangerous driving charges with so many accidents now-a-days.

Brian Smith was placed on twelve months suspended sentence when he pleaded guilty to a charge of non-payment. It was pointed out by counsel for the defense that Mr. Smith was unable to pay the fine because of the hospital and other expenses he was paying for an army pension.

Brian Anderson appeared on a driving charge after an accident on Jasper avenue Tuesday night when he ran into a vehicle operated by Mrs. Forbes D. Graham, Buena Vista apartment. The accused was remanded until Nov. 4 for trial and bail set at $1,000.

R. H. Roe, (Citizens' Committee) school board, said his first job in Edmonton was driving a team at the excavation of the basement of the Calder shops. He paid tribute to the work of city teachers, and said they had the most important job in the city. He said he had examined the eight-year expansion program started by the school board, and was in accord with it. He said if citizens for any action he would take it elected to council. He was running on the Citizens' Committee but will express his own views on all matters which affect the city and the school board.

Mrs. Edith Rogers, (CDA), alderman, said that if hospital, school and other services are to be kept up to the standard which the citizens desire, the tax system must be revised to relieve the burden on the taxpayers. She said the improvements on homes is the worst kind of taxation. The Edmonton government must pay larger grants to the municipalities, or must take them taxing powers in other fields.

Prof. Andrew Stewart (CDA) school board, urged work for the "best education we can get," and urged his support to the recently-announced, midday school of

Hallow'en Hi Jinks For the Youngsters

There's no holiday that's more the children's own than Hallow'en. Always they should have costumes, a little gookiness—though never enough to really frighten them—and always, if possible, they should have a party.

A Hallow'en party can be very simple and still be great fun. Give them something good to eat, by their standards—no elaborate by Hallow'en fashion. Have things arranged so that no damage can be done, and let the young go their own gait.

HOGGOLIN applies: Allow one apple for each guest. Cut off top, remove core, and hollow out apple, leaving shell about 1/2 inch thick. Chop portion of apple removed, combine with raisins or small seedless grapes, walnut meats and mayonnaise. With a small sharp knife draw triangular eyes, nose and a half-moon mouth on side of apple, cutting deeply enough so that peel can be removed. Replace peel with cream cheese. Stuff apple with chopped fruit and nut mixture, and replace top as hat.

Ghost Hot Dogs: Allow one or two winners for each guest, and an unequal number of slices of bread with crusts removed, spread each slice of bread lightly with prepared mustard. Place winner on each slice and roll up so that the bread forms a blanket. Secure with a toothpick. Brush outside of bread with melted butter. Bake in 400 degree oven for twenty minutes. Before serving, remove toothpick and roll in a white paper napkin, folded the width of the bread blanket. The tips of the hot dogs will show at each end.

SPOOK SANDWICHES: Cut rounds from slices of bread with cookie cutter. Cut eyes, nose and mouth in half the rounds using small sharp-pointed scissors. Spread red jam on one side of bread with soft butter and jelly, and top with face.

And for dessert: With sugar so scarce, it's something of a problem. "Hoghten" doughnuts may solve the problem. If you have sugar, make some ginger and molasses cookies in cut and witch and other appropriate shapes. You might serve chocolate ice cream with orange sauce over it. In any event be sure they have a fine, hilarious, spooky time.

Emergency Housekeeper Service To be Sponsored by League

Sponsored by the Junior Hospital League, a new service will be opened. The Emergency Housekeeper Service, as the service is named, endeavors to provide temporary assistance such as the mother or relative would give under normal conditions, in homes where illness or other emergency makes help imperative.

IT IS VIEWED as primarily a service for the welfare and protection of children and is not a maid or nursing service. The duties of the housekeeper however, may include keeping the house clean, caring for the children, budgeting and marketing, preparing meals for the family, performing simple nursing procedures, and similar duties as may be arranged between the supervisor and the family.

In general, housekeepers return to their own homes at night 24 hour duty being attempted only in extreme emergency or for a very limited time.

A PERMANENT staff and a committee of members of the Junior Hospital League, who will work in conjunction with the staff in procuring full or part time housekeepers, will open an office in Room 8 Canada Permanent Building, telephone 26004.

The housekeeper will be interviewed by the staff and the committee of league members. If hired she will receive her uniform and apron from the league. Car fare and payment for services rendered will be met by the league.

Housekeepers accepted will be given a training course of two or three days and will be followed by further training and lectures. The course will start Nov. 4 and the service will open Nov. 11.

Mrs. George Elliott, chairman of the committee in charge will give the lecture on the purpose of the service. A lecture will be given on nutrition, buying diets and food, and have taken up residence here.

New World Destiny

When Rogers Land stretched from Ontario to the Pacific and north to the Arctic, one man controlled its destiny. As Governor-in-Chief, Sir George Simpson guided Canada's pioneer fur traders for nearly half a century. In visiting the Hudson's Bay and North West companies in 1821, Simpson did much to found Canada's prosperity at a time when fur was Canada's wealth.

FAR BACK in the 17th century Calvert said to his New World pioneers: "Promote industry and public benefit." Famous English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, Calvert founded historic colonies in Newfoundland and Maryland in the early 1600's. "Preserve the laws... for unity," Calvert counselled his settlers.

Calvert's ideals of unity have been shared by all men of vision since Calvert's time 300 years ago. Let each of us be a man of vision now... help guide Canada's destiny.

The full measure of our stature as a nation depends upon unity of purpose. There is only one Canada for clear-headed Canadians.

Clear heads call for... a United Canada
